What is MUN?

Model United Nations (MUN) is an educational simulation where students role-play as delegates to the United Nations and simulate UN committees. Its purpose is to teach participants about diplomacy, international relations, and the workings of the UN. MUN conferences typically involve research, public speaking, debating, and writing, fostering critical thinking and leadership skills among participants. Through these simulations, students gain a deeper understanding of global issues, develop solutions through diplomacy, and learn the importance of international cooperation, making MUN a powerful tool for global youth engagement.

Terra MUN is a pioneering Model United Nations conference dedicated to being the world's first 0% emission event. Focused on sustainability, it integrates comprehensive eco-friendly practices across all aspects of the conference, from the venue, powered entirely by renewable energy, to the materials used, such as recycled and biodegradable products. Terra MUN stands out for its commitment to inclusivity, ensuring that delegates from diverse backgrounds feel welcome and engaged.

Additionally, it upholds educational excellence by fostering meaningful discussions on pressing global issues, especially those related to climate change, and providing a platform for youth to learn, debate, and innovate.
